Council Member, Energy Web Foundation, and Co-Founder, Grid Singularity

Ana Trbovich is a Council Member of the Energy Web Foundation, which strives to unleash blockchain's potential to accelerate the transition to a decentralised, democratised, decarbonised, and resilient energy system. She is also Co-Founder and COO of Grid Singularity – pronounced this year World Economic Forum Tech Pioneer, and a Professor of Entrepreneurship at FEFA, Belgrade. Ana serves as a member of the governing board of the European Institute for Innovation and Technology (EIT).

In prior roles, Ana consulted on public administration reform and competitiveness policy and led economic development projects for international organisations such as the EU, the USAID, and the World Bank. She has been deeply involved in Serbia's economic reforms and the EU accession process, both as a high government official and senior advisor. Ana holds a Ph.D. and MALD from the Fletcher School (including a semester at ScPo Paris) and MPA from Harvard's Kennedy School of Government.
